

mk2 COLLECTIONS
FILMS WINTER 2026

mk2 Films is a Paris-based independent film studio active in international sales, production and distribution, dedicated to curating and supporting films that matter. From the Palme d'Or-winners It was Just An Accident by Jafar Panahi and Anatomy of a Fall by Justine Triet, to Sentimental Value by Joachim Trier, Portrait of a Lady on Fire by Céline Sciamma, and Cold War by Paweł Pawlikowski.

Founded in 1974, mk2 Films is a home for both established and emerging talent, driven by filmmakers who tell stories that resonate universally, who offer reflections on the world we live in, and who are both politically and artistically engaged.

A collection of over 1,000 titles forms a singular body of fiction, animation, and documentary, bringing together the timeless and the trailblazing: from Charlie Chaplin, François Truffaut and Agnès Varda, to Krzysztof Kieślowski, Abbas Kiarostami and David Lynch. These works have been meticulously restored, preserving the power and beauty of cinema across generations. The collection traces a lineage from the earliest pioneers of the medium — Alice Guy-Blaché, D.W. Griffith — through Buster Keaton, Jacques Demy, and Claude Lanzmann, to some of today's most vital contemporary voices, including Xavier Dolan, Bruno Dumont, Leos Carax and Jia Zhang-Ke.

"A highlight of the Sundance Festival." Variety

Syd, a young assistant editor at a prestigious photography magazine, meets Lucy Berliner, a once-renowned photographer now living in seclusion. As Lucy's career is revived through their connection, the two women become involved in a passionate and increasingly dangerous relationship, forcing Syd to confront unexpected choices.

Premiering at Sundance, Lisa Cholodenko's HIGH ART marked a striking debut, offering an intimate and unsparing portrait of desire, ambition and artistic obsession within New York's underground creative scene. Anchored by powerful performances from Ally Sheedy and Radha Mitchell, the film quickly established itself as a defining work of late-1990s American independent cinema, heralding the emergence of a filmmaker who would later direct The Kids Are All Right. A celebrated landmark of queer cinema, newly restored in 4K, HIGH ART retains its raw emotional intensity and visual sophistication, reaffirming its status as a quietly influential film.

bashu, the little stranger

BAHRAM BEYZAIE

"A masterpiece." Les Cahiers du Cinéma

After his family is killed in a bombing, young Bashu flees southern Iran alone and arrives in a remote northern village. Unable to speak the local language and shunned as a little stranger, he is taken in by a mother of two whose husband is away. A fragile bond slowly begins to grow between them.

A landmark of Iranian cinema and a deeply humanist work, BASHU, THE LITTLE STRANGER blends realism with the quiet lyricism of a modern fable. Produced in 1985 with the support of Kanoon (the Iranian state institute that also backed Abbas Kiarostami's early films), the film stands as a sincere and enduring plea for tolerance, and a subtle critique of rigid social norms. In 1999, it was voted "the greatest Iranian film of all time" by a panel of 150 critics and professionals.

Restoration in 4K at Roashana Studios with the support of the Institute for the Intellectual Development of Children and Young Adults (Kanoon).

woman is the future of man

HONG SANG-SOO

"Memory, desire and raw self-interest clash against one another with startling poignancy."

The New York Times

Hong Sang-soo's fifth film premiered in Competition at Cannes in 2004. It was inspired by the famous verse by French poet Louis Aragon: 'Woman is the future of man, she is the colour of his soul.' The film intricately weaves together themes of love, desire, and self-discovery, offering a contemplative reflection on the complexities of contemporary life.

The first snows have fallen over Seoul. Munho, a young Art professor, is catching up with his friend Hunjoon, a penniless filmmaker who has just returned from the United States. They start off in search of the memory of Sunhwa, a young girl they were both in love with a few years earlier.

It feels strikingly close to contemporary narratives and the reflexive politics around the gaze."

MARTHA COOLIDGE

"More than a movie – it's a mirror. Exceptional." Sunday News

In 1962, boarding school student Martha Coolidge was date raped at the age of sixteen. A dozen years later, she worked through the experience in her first feature-length film.

Blending narrative and documentary, this autobiographical film examines a date rape and its aftermath. Re-enactments intertwine with behind-the-scenes footage, showcasing actors reflecting on their own experiences, including rape and the dynamics of male adolescence.

"An iconoclast. Always uncompromising and intense."

The Hollywood Reporter

Born in 1958, Bruno Dumont is an unconventional French director renowned for winning two Grand Prizes of the Jury at Cannes for HUMANITY (1999) and FLANDERS (2006). He initiated his directing career with the startling, visionary realism of the acclaimed THE LIFE OF JESUS (1997), solidifying his reputation as a daring iconoclast at the forefront of French cinema, known for working with non-professional actors. Unexpectedly, the experimental horror TWENTYNINE PALMS (2003) casts 'regular' actors in a unique, crude film set in the US. Back to his homeland with a series of three major films freely crossing the usual borders of film genres, FLANDERS (2006), HADEWIJCH (2009) and OUTSIDE SATAN (2011), Bruno Dumont then boldly and remarkably ventured into broad comedy with his TV miniseries LI'L QUINQUIN (2014).

metropolis

100th anniversary

FRITZ LANG

"A masterpiece." Sight and Sound

Metropolis, in 2026, is a marvellous futuristic megalopolis organised according to a caste system. Workers toil in the underground city to ensure the happiness of those who live on the upper level — the free men in the city's hanging gardens. Between the two tiers, technocrats oversee the proper functioning of the machines. But Maria, transformed into a robot, will lead the workers into revolt...

Set in a dazzling futuristic city the film depicts a society starkly divided: the privileged live above in towering skyscrapers, while the workers toil below in oppressive conditions. A visionary masterpiece by Fritz Lang, METROPOLIS remains one of the most influential and visually iconic films ever made. It is the very first film to be inscribed in UNESCO's Memory of the World Register.

JAMES IVORY

"A superb ensemble acting, intelligent writing and stunning design." Variety

"A lush wallow in nostalgic romanticism." The Times

Lucy meets George in a Florence pensione and the two share a brief romance before Lucy returns home, where she becomes engaged to Cecil. However, it isn't long before George unexpectedly enters her life again.

Merchant Ivory's breakthrough, A ROOM WITH A VIEW (1985) launched Helena Bonham Carter and Daniel Day-Lewis while cementing James Ivory's reputation for intelligent romantic cinema. This witty and sensual E. M. Forster adaptation, contrasting sunlit Tuscany with buttoned-up Surrey, was a critical and commercial triumph, winning three Academy Awards (Best Adapted Screenplay, Best Art Direction, Best Costume Design).

SALLY POTTER

"The most subversive history film ever made."

BBC

"Swinton is insouciantly magnetic at all times."

★★★★ The Guardian

Orlando begins an epic quest for love and freedom in the court of Elizabeth I as a man, and completes the search 400 years later as a woman. This journey takes Orlando across the frozen river Thames in pursuit of a Russian princess, into Central Asia (where he changes sex), through the experience of romantic love - and loss - in the Victorian age and then motherhood (and war) in the twentieth century - before finally arriving in the present moment.

On her deathbed, Queen Elizabeth I begs her favourite, Orlando, to remain forever young. Never ageing, the androgynous young man journeys through the ages, constantly shifting between genders and discovering love in its many forms.

BILL FORSYTH

"A whimsical but satirical masterpiece which contains riches far deeper than its deceptively simple surface might suggest." Slant

"A loving, funny, understated portrait of a small Scottish town. A film to treasure." Roger Ebert

"A film with a loving heart and an exuberant charm." Daily Mail

MacIntyre, a Texas oil executive, is sent by his stargazing boss Felix Happer to a Scottish fishing village to secure land for a refinery. Enchanted by the place, both men abandon the scheme in favour of an observatory and marine lab, though MacIntyre returns to America longing for the village he left behind.

LOCAL HERO put Scottish cinema on the international map with its wry blend of culture-clash comedy and social satire. Starring Peter Riegert as a Texas oil executive sent to buy out a Scottish fishing village for his eccentric boss (Burt Lancaster), the film captures the clash between corporate ambition and the magic of small-town life. The film won the 1984 BAFTA Award for Best Direction, and earned a Golden Globe nomination for Best Foreign Film, securing its place as one of the most enchanting British films of the 1980s.

JERZY SKOLIMOWSKI

"A wickedly pointed movie that takes a simple little story, tells it with humor and truth, and turns it into a knife in the side of the Polish government." Roger Ebert

"Darkly funny, sharp and intelligent, superbly written, filmed and directed." Le Nouvel Observateur

Three Polish labourers and their foreman, Nowak, arrive in London to work illegally on a compatriot's house. As the only English speaker, Nowak controls the money and soon alienates his men. When he learns of Jaruzelski's coup in Poland, he conceals the news to keep them working.

Winner of the Best Screenplay Award at the 1982 Cannes Film Festival, MOONLIGHTING is a masterfully restrained drama that fuses political urgency with deep human vulnerability. Written during the director's London exile and shot under pressing conditions, the film reflects Jerzy Skolimowski's sharp vision while offering Jeremy Irons one of his earliest and most haunting performances.

MARK NEWELL

"When relationships are involved, and social realities, and a certain level of magical realism, the story grows and deepens until it really involves us."

Chicago Sun-Times

Sons of a reformed Irish drunkard, Ossie and Tito are thrilled when their grandfather returns with a stunning white horse. After a crooked breeder takes it, the horse escapes with the boys, chased by the police and their father.

In this family-friendly fantasy aimed at younger audiences, British director Mike Newell turns his lens to the world of Irish Travellers and a mysterious flying horse. Starring Gabriel Byrne and Ellen Barkin, the film is a unique entry in Newell's filmography, standing apart from his more widely known works such as Four Weddings and a Funeral and Donnie Brasco.

HOMAGE

Agnès Varda, often called the “Grandmother of the Nouvelle Vague,” is one of the most influential figures in modern cinema. Based in Paris, she worked into her late eighties, releasing her final film, VARDA BY AGNÈS, in 2019. Blending documentary and fiction with empathy and humour, her work helped shape the French New Wave. A lifelong champion of women and marginalised voices, she remained fiercely independent through her production company Ciné-Tamaris.

2028 marks the 100th anniversary of Agnès Varda’s birth.

The AGNÈS VARDA COLLECTION includes:

23 feature films

LA POINTE COURTE (1955, 80’, 2K), CLÉO FROM 5 TO 7 (1962, 90’, 2K), VAGABOND (1985, 2K), FACES PLACES (2017, 94’, 2K) and many more

16 short films

L’OPÉRA-MOUFFE (1958, 2K), SALUT LES CUBAINS (1963, 30’, 2K), BLACK PANTHERS (30’, 2K), and many more

Also available: VIVA VARDA! by Pierre-Henri Gibert (2023, 52’ & 67’, 2K) a documentary revealing a brand new perspective on the influential filmmaker’s life and work.

“They called me ‘The Ancestor of the New Wave’ when I was only 30. I had seen very few films, which, in a way, gave me both the naivety and the daring to do what I did.”

PAWEL PAWLIKOWSKI

"A mysterious, musically glorious and visually ravishing film. An elliptical, episodic story of imprisonment and escape, epic in scope. The musical ensemble performances are staggering – brilliantly choreographed by Pawlikowski and filmed by cinematographer Łukasz Żal."
★★★★ The Guardian

COLD WAR is a passionate love story between two people of different backgrounds and temperaments, who are fatally mismatched and yet fatefully condemned to each other. Set against the background of the Cold War in the 1950s in Poland, Berlin, Yugoslavia and Paris – the film depicts an impossible love story in impossible times.
